

HOME DECORATING CURES worksheet

Jo Chrobak
ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNER

Room that needs the cure:

---

Describe how you imagined or wanted this room to look and feel:

---

Find one image in a magazine, on Pinterest or Houzz that has the look and feel you want here.

How does this room currently look and feel:

---

---

How does the room in the image you found differ from the room you are working on?

---

---

List all the functions that this room needs to, or you would like it to perform:

---

---

Designate a space for each function. You can do this by drawing a diagram or listing here:

---

---

---

---

List the storage or furniture items you need to perform each of the above functions effectively:

---

---

Get creative, where can you up-cycle or double up the use of an item or personalise it to suit your space? Can a stool used for another activity work as a side table when reading?

---

---

Are there any items you have put on display in your room that don't quite fit in? Take all of your decorative items out of the room and bring them back in one by one. Test each item in a couple of locations. Ask yourself, why do I want this in here? Does it enhance the space or clutter it?

---

---

You may need to repeat this process (even if you aren't new to decorating). Most professional designers will edit a room during the design process hundreds of times! So don't feel bad if you didn't get it right first time (and pat on the back if you did..what a natural!)
